

Behind Closed Doors

These design-conscious repositories are proving that storage space shouldn't have to correlate with function over form.

Tailor Made

For those whose garments are just too carefully appointed to be concealed behind opaque doors, a walk-in wardrobe boasting transparent features is wholly necessary. Poliform's range of sleek wardrobes from its Fitted collection by Rodolfo Dordini offset modernistic, lacquered aluminium framing with glass panelling to provide a contemporary interior addition, reminiscent of a trophy case. Sublime sartorial choices deserve to be put on display, after all.
